

The Thelma
Hulbert
Gallery

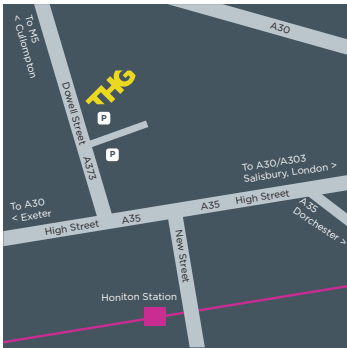

Frances Hatch:

Red Earth Under My Nails

Sat 9 Sept – Sat 28 Oct 2017

Exhibition Opening Sat 9 Sept 3pm – 5pm

Thelma Hulbert Gallery
Elmfield House
Dowell Street
Honiton
Devon
EX14 1LX

01404 45006
info@thelmahulbert.com
www.thelmahulbert.com

Tuesday - Saturday 10am - 5pm

Free admission, donations welcome

Frances Hatch: Red Earth Under My Nails

Exhibition Opening Saturday 9 September 3pm - 5pm

This exhibition continues until Saturday 28 October 2017

You and your guests are invited to join Frances Hatch at the Thelma Hulbert Gallery (THG) for the opening of Red Earth Under My Nails.

Artist Frances Hatch, winner of the THG OPEN 2016, has been making a new body of work for 'Red Earth Under My Nails' her solo show at THG. Created outside in situ, these paintings have been produced using and integrating earth and found materials in selected locations predominantly across Devon. Describing her work Frances explains 'Geology becomes my pigment.'

Bookings are now being taken for the following events with exhibiting artist Frances Hatch (places are limited, please book early to avoid disappointment)

Artist Workshop: Mon 18 Sept 1.30 - 4.30pm £30 (£25 THG Friends)

Artist Talk: Thurs 21 Sept 6pm £5 (£3 THG Friends)

This exhibition has been supported by Arts Council England

Image on the front: ABBOTSHAM MORNING GREENING: cliff material and acrylic on found wood